CROSSING BORDER IS NOT CONSIDERED INVASION BY U. S. ARMY OFFICIALS

FLIGHT OVERSEAS SUCCESS

By Earle G. Reeves.

London, June 16.—A welcome even eclipsing that given Harry G. Hawker and Mackenzie Grieve awaits Captain John Alcock and Lieut. Arthur W. Brown, when they reach London fresh from their history making flight across the Atlantic.

The two trans-Atlantic fliers are expected to arrive here Wednesday. The Vickers aeroplane company wired Alcock today that it will immediately send spare parts to replace those damaged when his plane nosed down into an Irish bog near Galway at the end of the 1,900 mile journey. If the big boomer was not too badly smashed, Alcock and Brown will fly to London, but at the air ministry it was said today that it is more likely that they will make the trip by rail, Galway despatches indicating that several days will be required to repair the machine.

Further details of the flight across the Atlantic were slow in reaching London today because of the great delay in wire communication from the Irish village near which the two aviators landed. From all government heads messages of congratulation were dispatched to the two birdmen.

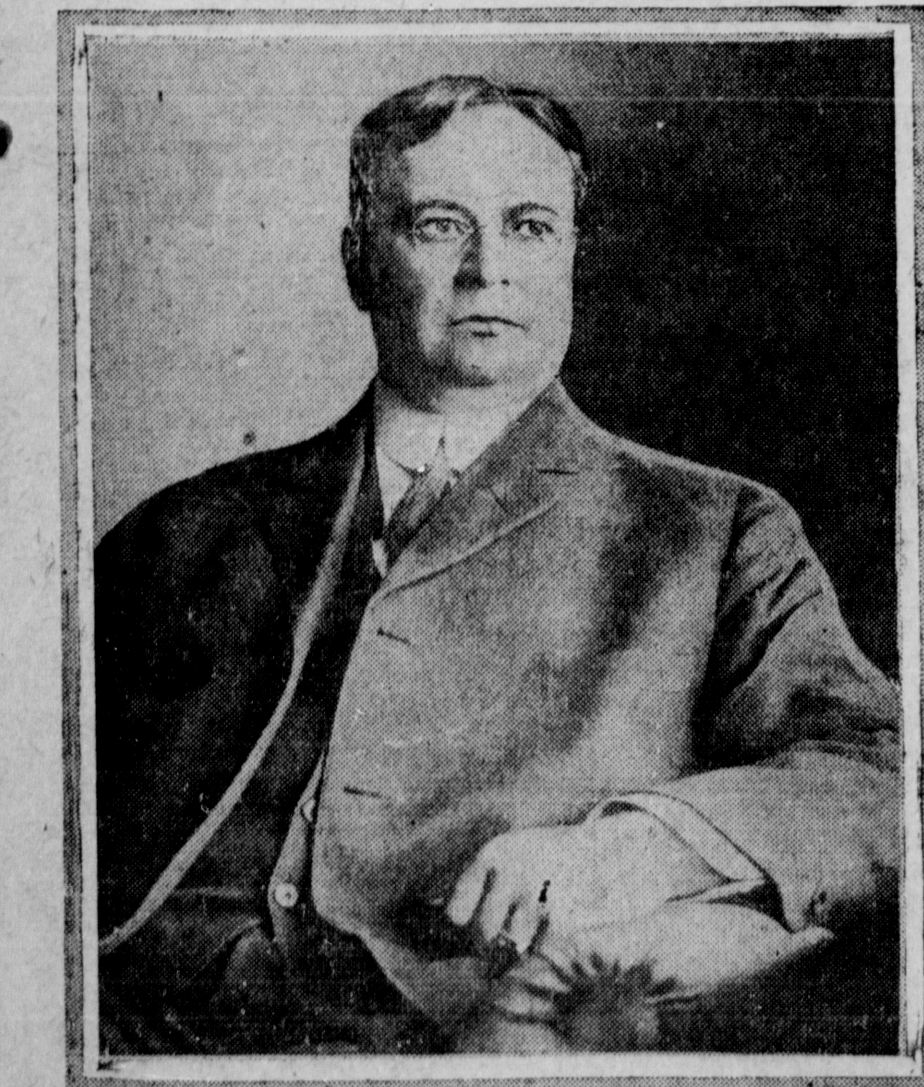

In his message to Captain Alcock, Lord Northcliffe pictured a new era in world development, whose arrival was signalized by the successful completion of the trans-Atlantic flight. He declared the time is soon coming when London morning papers will be delivered in New York before night, when London and New York will be closer together, from the standpoint of communication than are New York and Chicago today.

"I surely believe your wonderful journey is a warning to the cable monopolies and others to realize that within the next few years we shall be less dependant upon them unless they increase their wires and speed up," said Lord Northcliffe, "Your voyage was made more quickly than the average press message in 1919."

Moreover I look forward with certainty to the time when London morning newspapers will be selling in New York in the evening, allowing for the difference in time, and vice versa in regard to the New York evening journals reaching London the next day.

"Then we shall no longer suffer from the danger of garbled quotations due to telegraphic compression, then, too, American and British peoples will understand each other better as they are brought into closer daily touch."

FINAL APPROVAL OF ALLIED REPLY GIVEN BY COUNCIL

Paris, June 16.—Final approval of the allied reply to the German counter proposals was given by the council of five today. The entire document was read by the council as it came from the hands of the various experts who combined in its production. The experts finished the document at 3:30 this morning.

As soon as the seal of approval was set on the German reply the council turned its attention to Austrian matters.

The small powers made an eleventh hour request that they be allowed to see the allied reply to Germany before it was handed to the German delegates. Their request has not been formally acted upon, but it is understood they will be told there is not sufficient time. As a compromise those most vitally interested will be shown the reply before it is delivered.

Forty minutes after 8 o'clock Sunday morning their big Vickers-Vimy bi-plane landed on the beach near Clifden, Galway. They made the flight in sixteen hours and twelve minutes, having left St. John's, Newfoundland, at 4:13 Saturday afternoon, (Greenwich time, 12:13 New York time.)

SETTLEMENT OF TELEGRAPHERS STRIKE NOW APPEARS TO BE NEAR

Chicago, June 16.—Settlement of the general strike of telegraphers is believed nearer today as the result of action of Postmaster General Burleson, in granting to the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers the right of collective bargaining, recognition of their union and adjustment of the wage scale. Officials of the commercial telegraphers union contend that Burleson's action in the case of the electrical workers establishes a basis which must also be recognized in considering the demands of the telegraphers.

The announcement by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, at Atlantic City, that Burleson had promised to give orders for conferences between officials of the telegraph companies and representatives of the union is also regarded as another step toward early adjustment of the situation. Officials of the union here were without details of the plan announced by Morrison, but were hopeful that it would result in a settlement of the strike. At a mass meeting of strikers here it was voted to send a cablegram to President Wilson setting forth their side of the controversy and appealing to him to intervene for an equitable adjustment of the dispute.

A complete tie up of the telegraph and telephone systems of the country was averted by the action of the postmaster general in granting the demands of the electrical workers. This action resulted in heads of the brotherhood or receding general strike orders which would have become effective today.

PROBE RESUMED

Cleveland, O., June 16.—The special crime investigating grand jury which has spent more than a month probing vice conditions in Cleveland, resumed its sittings today. Nine witnesses had been subpoenaed to be heard today. It is believed that binding signing activities of certain persons will be inquired into.

GATE RECEIPTS WILL AMOUNT TO $1,000,000

Toledo, O., June 16.—One million dollars! It's a lot of money even in boxing, where they are popularly supposed to pad the gloves with hundred-dollar bills. But it appears as if the receipts for the Willard-Dempsey bout will total that amount. I was talking to a man who is interested in the promotion of the affair and he told me that even at this early date in the advance sale more than $500,000 worth of seats have been sold. Reservations have been received from as far away as England. Nothing should furnish more conclusive proof of the widespread interest in the clash for the heavyweight championship of the world.

When the match was first made those promoting it expressed confidence that the "gate" would reach the half-million dollar mark, but even the most elastic optimist among them foresaw a million-dollar harvest.

Tex Rickard has a corps of clerks at work 12 hours a day in Toledo doing nothing else but receiving the barrage of cheques, postal money orders, express money orders and cash and making reservations. One of the banks in the city remains open long after the usual closing hour so it will not be necessary for the money to be left in the office safe over night. But in spite of the big force of workers and long hours they have not been able to keep pace with the unprecedented demand for tickets.

There were some—and they were not in the minority by any means—who believed Rickard was making a serious mistake when he made the prices $10 to $60. Sixty dollars is the largest amount ever asked for a ticket to a boxing bout. But results have vindicated Rickard's judgment. He has the happy faculty of being able to charge rates for bouts which he promotes that no other promoter would dare attempt. His way of doing things enables him to ask and get big prices. It is because of these prices and the extraordinary advance sale that Rickard and those working with him are sure $1,000,000 will be taken in.

ACTION ON CRABBE MEASURE MAY BE POSTPONED

Columbus, O., June 16.—With the arguing today before the supreme court the question of whether or not the license law became inoperative with the coming of prohibition May 27 and the request that an early decision be rendered it may be that the legislature, which reconvenes at 5 o'clock this afternoon, may defer action on the Crabbe prohibition measures until the decision is handed down. It may be that the question will force another recess even before the session is taken.

If there is a quorum when the legislature is called into session today, it is likely that a resolution ratifying the federal suffrage amendment will be introduced by a majority member. It is the belief of leaders of both parties that the amendment will be ratified by an overwhelming majority in both houses.

SCIENTIST IS DEAD

Cleveland, O., June 16.—Frank Perkins Whitman, 66, well known scientist and professor emeritus of physics and astronomy at Western Reserve university, is dead at his home in Adelbert road. He was a member of a number of scientific societies and widely known as an instructor in physics.

PRESIDENT WILL GO ON SPEAKING TOUR IN UNITED STATES

Washington, June 16.—President Wilson, almost immediately following his return to the United States, will make a "swing around the circle," putting directly before the people his work at the peace conference.

This was definitely announced at the White House today, when Secretary Tumulty allowed it to become known that, at the president's request he had started work on a tentative itinerary, embracing all the principal cities from coast to coast.

SIX WORKMEN ARE HURT BY EXPLOSION

Akron, Ohio, June 16.—Five negroes and one white workman were injured, none of them fatally, this morning at the city garbage plant, when a gasoline tank exploded in the separating room.

One wall of the building was blown out by the blast and the building set on fire, but prompt work by firemen checked the flames.

Supt. D. W. Thomas said no estimate was available of the damage done, but garbage collection may be held up in Akron for some time.

EX-KAISER IS TOO VERBOSE SAYS MUELLER

Berlin, June 16.—Former Emperor William "belongs in the pathological ward," and is not wanted in Germany, declared Herman Mueller, majority Socialist leader and whip in the National Assembly, in a speech delivered before the Majority Socialist Convention here today.

Herr Mueller, who is one of the most conservative of the Socialists, referring to the rumor that an attempt was to be made to bring about the return of the ex-emperor, warned the Prussians said to be interested in such a move that a majority of the German people would not permit his return.

The speaker declared the former ruler was dangerous to the country, and blamed his verbosity for Germany's misfortunes.

Herr Mueller's speech was received with cheers.

W.R. BRIDES ARRIVE.

New York, June 16.—Sixty-four army and navy war brides arrived here today aboard the transport Plattsburg.

WAR DEPARTMENT HAS NO OFFICIAL REPORT CONCERNING THE CLASH

Washington, June 16.—There is no possibility of any misunderstanding between the American and Mexican governments as a result of American troops having crossed the border and engaged in battle with the Villistas, Secretary of War Baker declared early today, in a brief formal statement. The only purpose of the American soldiers is to protect life on the American side of the border, he said.

El Paso, Tex., June 16.—United States troops today are in full possession of Juarez and are scouring the country south and east of town, capturing or killing every Villista soldier they can find. The Americans have orders to shoot instantly any rebel who refuses to surrender.

Washington, June 16.—Beyond stating that Major General D. C. Cabell, commander of the Southern Department of the army, had been instructed to deal with the situation as he deemed best, war department officials early today refused to discuss the report that American troops had crossed the Mexican border to stop Villa's forces from firing shots that were landing in El Paso, Texas, endangering American life and American property. Officials of the department were anxiously awaiting General Cabell's formal report on the situation and upon this, they stated, will depend any concerted plan the government may take.

The crossing of the border by 3,600 American troops, according to unofficial advices, followed a clash between the Villistas and the Mexican federal troops, during which bullets fell on the American side of the border.

The crossing of the Americans was not looked upon as a Mexican invasion by officials here. They took the stand that the situation was one fully appreciated by the Carranza authorities and the leaders of the Mexican federal troops, from whom no resistance was looked for.

Neither the state nor the war departments was yet in receipt of any official dispatches telling of the Americans crossing the border, it was stated.

El Paso, Tex., June 16.—American troops were engaged in battle with Mexican forces early today for the first time since the occupation of Vera Cruz.

Thirty-six hundred American soldiers crossed the border shortly before midnight and engaged the forces of General Villa. They immediately attacked and attempted to capture or disperse the whole Villista army.

Cavalry, infantry and artillery participated in the action, the cavalry charging the Mexican rebel ranks and at the same time attempting an encircling movement. The first casualties of the American troops were one artilleryman killed and another seriously wounded by snipers.

The 3,600 American cavalry and infantry were supported by field guns which opened fire with shrapnel on the forces of General Villa, attacking Juarez. Early today it was impossible to learn whether Villa would continue his attempt to capture Juarez or would withdraw.

The American crossing—officially specified as "not an invasion"—was made after a woman had been killed and five others wounded by shots from Villista guns which whizzed across the border into El Paso.

The American force consists of the Fourth battalion of the 24th (negro) infantry, commanded by Colonel S. R. Tomkins. A battalion of the 82nd artillery also is participating in the action.

Less than ten minutes after the order to cross had been given by General James B. Erwin, the entire 3,600 American soldiers were on Mexican soil.

The final action of the artillery occurred at 12:30 o'clock this morning when an army field piece hurled a charge of shrapnel over Juarez to ward the race track, where Villistas were concentrated. The second shot, five minutes later, struck near the race track. These shots were followed at five minute intervals by shots from two guns placed on the Mexican side near the international bridge.

Soon shrapnel shells were bursting in and around the race track grandstand at the rate of three a minute. After getting the range the artilleryman, commanded by Colonel Merrill, scored a hit with every shot.

Meantime, the cavalry brigade advanced as close to the race track as Colonel Tomkins would permit, while keeping out of range of the American shrapnel.

An enveloping movement was started immediately, with the aim of preventing the Villista army from escaping southeast to the mountains or crossing the border to endanger American citizens.

Early reports to American military headquarters give no estimate of the number of Villistas captured by the American cavalry, but it was expected many would be brought back and interned at Fort Bliss.

Colonel James C. Hornbrook, commander of the Fifth cavalry, is in command of the extreme left wing of the American forces. In conjunction with the other cavalry it was expected to completely envelop Villa's positions. The cavalry, artillery and infantry are supported by the Ninth engineers, two armored motor cars and other detachments.

Villa forces which first attacked Juarez were driven from the city early Sunday, but renewed the attack yesterday afternoon. Federal cavalry charged the rebels and again repulsed them. Colonel Gonzales Escobar, commanding the federal forces, being severely wounded in the engagement.

THIRTY SIX ARE ARRESTED FOR AUTO SPEEDING

A summary of police records since the installation of a speed cop on the city police force, shows that 36 arrests for speeding have been made in the last fifteen days.

Clark A. Stethem, speed cop, has been watching the motorists violating the speed and traffic laws like a hawk and his victims have an axe to grind daily before Police Judge E. Dawson Smith. The record of 36 speeders in fifteen days shows that his activities are being met with results.

"Unless they stop speeding," said Chief Canady Monday morning, "there will be 36 more arrests in the next fifteen days. This speeding will be stopped."

While most local motorists are wary of the speed cop there are still a few being caught, although the majority of the offenders are out of town motorists, who have been in the habit of using Xenia streets as speedways for some time and can not become accustomed to the new and metropolitan arrangement.

THERE WAS A BOY

WHO HAD a good job, TWO YEARS ago, AND HIS Government came, AND TOOK him away, FROM WHERE he worked, AND SENT him to camp, AND KEPT him there FOR THREE or four months, AND WORKED him hard, AND A day came along, WHEN THEY took him away, TO A waiting ship, AND PUT him aboard, WITH NEVER a chance, TO SAY goodbye, AND HE sailed the sea, AND LEFT the ship, FOR ANOTHER camp, AND WAS drilled some more, AND WORKED some more, AND ANOTHER day came, AND HE marched away, WHERE HE heard great guns, AND WAITED there, TILL A fateful night, WHEN THE order came, THAT SENT him out, AND INTO the night, AS AN engine of death, OR A victim of death, AND THERE he stayed, AND WINTER came, WITH ITS Winter rains, AND SPRINGTIME came, AND SUMMER came, AND ALL the time, THIS BOY I know, WENT ON his way, AND NEVER complained, AND ANOTHER day came, AND THE great war ceased, AND ANOTHER day, AND HE marched again, TO A waiting ship, THAT CARRIED him back, TO HIS native land, AND THE Goddess of Liberty, SMILED on him, AND WHISTLES screamed, AND THE populace cheered, AND THEY held him up, AS A hero returned, AND THEN forgot, AND A day ago, I MET this boy, ON A city street, AND HE wanted to know, IF I might know, WHERE HE might go, JUST TO find a job, AND I who had cheered, WHEN THE boy came home, CONFERRED MY shame, THAT I didn't know, AND HE went away, A HERO returned, AND OUT of a job, AND THAT very day, THE WHISTLES blew, IN JOYFUL acclaim, THAT STILL more boys, HAD COME home.

Pope's Income Uncertain.

It is stated at the Vatican that outside of the actual money capital in the papal treasury, which is the accumulation of many popes, there is no way to determine the actual income and expenditures, for the reason that the income varies from year to year, according to the popularity of the particular pope on the throne, according to world prosperity, and like causes, and that the expenditures must be fixed according to this uncertain income.

Calls Christian Endeavorers Of World To Plant Memorial Trees And By Such Plan Come Nearer To Great Tree-Maker

Boston, June 16.—A call to plant memorial trees and "thus come nearer to the Great Tree-Maker" has been issued to the members of the Christian Endeavor Societies throughout the world. The call is issued by the Rev. Francis E. Clark, president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor and of the World's Christian Endeavor Union.

At the suggestion of the American Forestry Association, of Washington, Dr. Clark urges memorial trees be planted for those who gave their lives to their country and for those who offered their lives in the great war.

This is one of the most far-reaching calls for memorial tree planting," says Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association, in a letter to Dr. Clark. "The association will gladly send to any Endeavorer free instruction on what is best and how to plant trees. We also will be more than glad to enter these trees on our national honor roll and send by year."

He points out how each tree can be marked with a plate such as the American Forestry Association has designed and calls attention to the many opportunities for beautifying roadsides and country church yards.

Dr. Clark urges congregations to plant trees every year, and asks local societies to co-operate with proper city and town authorities in planting trees, thus in time making Christian Endeavor forests.

"I am very seriously in earnest," Dr. Clark says in his call, "about this matter of tree planting. I believe there are great possibilities in commemorating men and events. I have a family of trees that is growing year on year."

While Havre was still young the seafaring men of Honfleur conquered Newfoundland, founded Quebec and established numerous trading posts in India. Much of the town's commerce was gradually absorbed by Havre. At the outbreak of the great war, however, Honfleur had a prosperous export trade with England in dairy products, fruits and vegetables, and a considerable quantity of lumber was imported direct from the Scandinavian countries.

ATLANTIC CITY HEARS FROM SEATTLE.

The hope of the country that the convention of the American Federation of Labor at Atlantic City would show signs of being in sympathy with morality and temperance was rudely shocked when the convention voted 26,000 to 4,000 against prohibition and demanding beer, and to attend a great anti-prohibition parade at Washington City on Sunday. The expenses for the junket to Washington, it was announced, had been guaranteed by the consolidated brewery interests.

Queer how mens' appetites for that which often makes brutes of them, should prevail over their common sense, and cause them to favor that which is their worst enemy. Unionism is held up as the golden cord which has worked wonders for the advantage of Labor, but here is an instance where it shows signs non-progressive. While the whole nation is striving hard to get out from under the curse of liquor, here come the Stalwart Sons of Toil and in effect say "no beer, no work." They have no shame for themselves—but the nation is ashamed for them.

And the convention passed the shameful resolution in the very face of the most direct evidence that could be adduced that it was against their best interests, for there were present loyal temperance men who plead with them not to do it, and gave the proof of the splendid results of Prohibition in their home towns.

James Duncan, president of the Central Labor Union of Seattle, deplored the introduction of non-essential matters into discussion, "at this annual convention of the American Federation of Labor during the most critical period of the economic and political readjustment the world has ever seen."

"As for prohibition," said Mr. Duncan, "I come here with instructions from the workers of Seattle to oppose any measure that aims to defeat it. We are prohibitionists. We have had two years of it and we know why it is good. No one, either the President of the United States or the Congress, represents our sentiments when they seek to nullify the war time or the constitutional prohibition enactments. We want no more imbeciles born into the world, we want no more drink-crazy men and women. We want clean citizenship and a clear-headed working-class. We have seen in two years experience, in Seattle that prohibition contributes to both of these ends. Out there stupidity among the workers is on the decline, and health and intelligent interest in the affairs of life, political, economic and social, is on the rise. We have a stronger labor movement because of the fact that the blinding influences of the saloon and the bottle have been removed. The workers begin to see the value of organization and of education. So it will be with the workers of the country at large when prohibition becomes nation wide."

M. P. Burch, a colleague of Duncan's and president of the Newsboys' Union, supported Duncan in a vigorous defense of prohibition, not on the ground of morality, but on the ground of working-class expediency. He said there are progressive labor groups on the Pacific coast today, because the workers no longer swilled liquor at the saloons but devoted their spare time to attending meeting of their local unions, the labor councils and other labor movement affairs. While the vote on the prohibition resolution was being computed the convention listened to Mrs. Rena Mooney, wife of Thomas J. Mooney, Pacific coast labor leader, undergoing life sentence for his alleged part in the preparedness day bomb outrage in San Francisco. Her appearance upon the platform with Mr. Gompers and other officers of the federation called forth tremendous applause. She rehearsed the outstanding and now quite familiar details of the case. "Everyone will have their own opinion of this feature of the convention."

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

MR. TEARLE BUYS HOUSE AND CONTENTS.

Under the flaming caption there followed such a garbled version of what I had said as left me gasping. I had been represented as saying my husband never confided in me, that I knew nothing of him, and his business, but in such a way as carried the impression that Neil and I were not congenial. Then to my horror a reference was made to Mrs. Orton, veiled, but none the less plain. It spoke of a "handsome widow" of Neil's acquaintance with her; of the fact that he had been seen with her often. It was a horrid article, scurrilous, in its insinuations, yet never saying a word for which the paper might be obliged to give satisfaction. From that time I have had a hateful admiration for reporters.

Mr. Frederick came that afternoon bringing Mr. Tearle to look at the house. I asked him in, if he had seen the Argus. He let me know that he had, and that he would remain and talk to me about it after Tearle went. He saw my distress, and smiled reassuringly.

Tearle was delighted with the house, and in his rough way so expressed himself.

"My wife couldn't begin to fix up a ranch like this," he told me. "She ain't that kind. She's a hoss's daughter." She can ride a hoss a mighty sight better than she could buy gimcracks like these even if she had all the money in the world. It's most too fine, but I guess as long as I have made up my mind to be a swell like other folks, the best ain't none too good. I've worked like a dog all my life and I'll be damned—beg your pardon ma'am—if I ain't earned the right to throw my money away if I want to."

"It's a good investment Tearle, dirt cheap at the price I offered you."

"There won't be much investment to these duds inside when my boys and girls get here. They can play rough house with anything in the world."

"You have children?" I asked, amused.

"Four of them. The huskiest, liveliest four you ever set eyes on. There ain't a one of them can't ride a broncho, and do stunts that would frighten a city youngster most to death to look at. They're a fine bunch if I do say it," fatherly pride in his tones, and on his face.

"There'll be room for them all," Frederick told him.

There would have to be. They'd built the walls if there wasn't. No cooping them youngsters up in two by four rooms. They are used to all out doors you know. They don't think a house is good for anything only to eat and sleep in."

Before he left he had given Mr. Frederick a check for the house and furniture. He also had said that I was to remain rent free for the two months which would pass before he could bring on his family.

"That is very kind of you," I stammered, almost overcome. Surely there was good in everybody. This man whom I had refused to receive was doing me a great kindness, helping me more than he realized.

After he had gone Mr. Frederick turned to me.

"Tell me," he pointed to the paper. "Did you mention Mrs. Orton?"

I repeated my conversation with the reporter word for word as nearly as I could remember. I told him of the expression of surprise on the man's face at my answers to his questions, and that he had seemingly gone away disgusted because he had been unable to get any information from me.

"Those fellows can make a story out of nothing," he grumbled after laughing at what I told him. "The idea of your telling him you 'didn't know anything about anything.' If I had said that it would have been all right. He saw through it though, or he wouldn't have called you clever. He knew you were stalling him."

"But this is awful! to have it published—things like this, things I never said. Is there nothing I can do? Is one obliged to submit to it?"

"Under the circumstances, yes. Should you make a fuss it will only bring more notoriety. And that we can't afford to have at the present stage of the game." He then told me of the progress they were making in listing the creditors, and brought me a copy of the letter offering to

GOLDEN JUBILEE YEAR WILL BE CELEBRATED AT O. S. & S. O. HOME AT ANNUAL EX-PUPILS REUNION

This is the golden jubilee year of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home.

Fifty years ago this month, the initiatory steps were taken in this city to secure an institution where orphans of Ohio men who served their country during the Civil War, in army and navy, could be given a home and educated.

The Grand Army of the Republic, backed by patriotic men and women in this city and throughout the state, finally succeeded in carrying the project into effect, and eventually in persuading the state to take over and conduct the institution.

The first meeting to devise ways and means of carrying out the plan, and to secure the necessary funds, was held in the city hall, Xenia, June 21, 1869. The following July 13, another meeting was held, which was addressed by Governor Hayes, Congressman James Winans from this district, Captain Earnshaw and others.

Lester Arnold of this city, is one of the few men living who helped to make the project a success, and whose contribution of $1,000 made at the meeting of July 13, 1869, set the financial ball rolling and resulted in pledges amounting to $16,500 being secured.

Standing up in the meeting, Mr. Arnold pledged $1,000, and the same sum was offered by the late Eli Millen and James C. McMillen.

Others pledged lesser sums, and before the meeting ended enough had been promised to encourage the backers of the movement to push it vigorously.

Mr. Arnold, who passed his 90th birthday anniversary last December, was then one of the most prosperous and active grain merchants of the county. He recalls the hard work it took to interest people in the plan sufficiently for them to be persuaded to give financial aid.

The Rev. Peter C. Prugh, then pastor of the Reformed church, this city, and now living in Los Angeles, Cal., at the age of 96 years, rode the county from "end to end," in a buggy, Mr. Arnold says, soliciting for the proposed Home.

"He got everything, from money, to potatoes, butter and eggs, and he took everything offered to him," said Mr. Arnold, "and turned it into cash." To his energy, Mr. Arnold gives much of the credit for the Home finally becoming a reality.

As soon as enough money was secured to buy a site, the people of Xenia began to look about for a suitable location for the proposed institution. In the meantime, a number of children eligible for admission to the Home had been gathered here, and a room was rented on East Main street, in the Millen property, where for a year or so, 25 to 100 children, who formed the nucleus of the first family of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, were housed.

A board of control for the institution was appointed by the Grand Army of the Republic, and composing it were: General George B. Wright, Major M. S. Gunkel, Col. H. G. Armstrong, Eli Millen, Judge White, Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes, wife of the governor of Ohio, Mrs. Henrietta L. Monroe of this city, and Mrs. Ann E. McMeans.

This body accepted the site which had been secured, the Reed farm, south of Xenia.

Mrs. Ann McMeans was elected superintendent of the Home while temporary quarters were located in this city, in January, 1870, but she resigned in a short time, and Major M. S. Gunkel was appointed superintendent, with Mrs. Edgington of Chicago chief matron, and for other assistants and teachers.

The first building erected on the new site was built in the early part of 1870, and the structure, which was intended as a barn, and is still used on the institution grounds, housed all the children and the employees, and in it they lived, ate, slept and went to school.

Contributions and donations for the Home, consisting chiefly of bedding and clothing were sent in from all parts of the state.

The action which finally resulted in the state taking over the Home took place February 28, when a committee from the Legislature visited the embryo institution, and attended a public meeting at the city hall, where all the children of the Home were present. Howard E. Gilkey, of Cleveland, one of the smallest inmates, later state librarian and prominent in Columbus, made a touching speech, which so affected his audience that the members of the committee returned to the capital convinced that the state should care for the orphaned children of its soldiers and sailors.

The first bill introduced in the legislature and which was passed April 14, 1870 provided for the establishment of "Soldiers and Sailors' Orphans' Homes," fixed an appropriation of $13,000, and provided that the home should be established on part of the property owned by the state at White Sulphur Springs, in Delaware county on which the Girls' Reform school was located. The board of managers found this proposition impractical, and the following May 25, accepted the offer to take over the Xenia Home. A large force of men was put to work on the buildings and they were ready to present to the state in August. Dr. and Mrs. I. D. Griswold were elected the first superintendent and matron under the state management. Within the next few years the home farm was enlarged, and in 1874 a system of industrial training was added to the schools.

The Home met its first disaster February 16, 1879, when the administration and domestic buildings were burned at a loss of $75,000. The state rebuilt as soon as possible. Five years later, April 27, 1884, a tornado swept over the institution, doing a great deal of damage. This loss was met by two individuals, Governor George Hoadley and John Little of this city, who gave their promissory notes to cover the sum necessary to repair the damage, $7,500.

No special arrangements have been made to celebrate the golden jubilee, but the half century of the institution will be featured in the program by the Ex-Pupils' Association, July 1, at the 39th annual reunion to be held 2 and 3.

FARMERS NOT GETTING ANY BONUS IN $2.26 WHEAT PRICE

This is the way the Record-Republican of Washington C. H., sizes up the $2.26 wheat proposition:

"Some of the people in the cities have gotten into the habit of spee'ing of the government wheat price as if it were a bonus to the farmers. This is neither tactful or truthful. The first wheat price fixed at $2.20 per bushel it is believed was considerably below the price which the farmers would have gotten for their wheat if the government had kept its hand off. The price would have been nearer $3 than $2 per bushel, had it been allowed to seek its natural level.

"When the government fixed a price of $2.26 for the 1919 wheat crop, its purpose was not to give the farmer a bonus, but to name a price which the farmer would look upon as guaranteeing him against loss, and which, therefore, would justify him in maintaining or increasing his wheat acreage. If there were no government price at the present time, wheat probably would be selling for considerably more than $2.26 per bushel. It is true that we have the promise of the greatest crop in history, but it is also true that never before was there such a demand for foodstuffs. Mr. Hoover recently referred to $3.50 as a possible price for wheat.

"The farmer has not received any bonus from the government, and will not get any.

"He furnished between one-fourth and one-third of all the fighting men, and with the help of his wife and daughters and younger boys, he grew more food than ever before. He did this cheerfully, and would do it again, but he is getting rather cross when people accuse him of having received a bonus."

Boston.

The name was derived from Boston, a port on the river Witham, which flows into the Wash in Lincolnshire, England. It is usually held to mean Botolph's ton, or town. In the fourteenth century such forms as Botolestone and Botolf's tone occur. Lambard, writing about 1577, states that the place was then called Botonstow, but adds that it was "commonly and corruptly called Boston."

Prince of Wales.

Newport society is a-flutter over the definite announcement that the Prince of Wales, heir to the British throne, will be a visitor there in August and take part in many social events. The Prince is making a tour of the world and it is understood he may stay in Newport for some time. The Prince, while at Newport, will, it is said, be a guest of Mrs. Ogden Goetel at Ochre Court, her beautiful villa.

Conserve Enthusiasm.

Are you a boy or girl who becomes very enthusiastic about some nice thing you want to do? Be careful not to be so enthusiastic in starting a new undertaking that you have no energy left for carrying it through to completion. Enthusiasm is an important factor in success, but it must be a steady flow, and not burst forth like some of the geysers which send a spout of water skyward, and then are quiet for 24 hours.—Exchange.

Pen Extractor.

A pen extractor installed in an office will save all members of the force the lanky operation of removing an old pen from the holder with the fingers. The device consists of a metal loop which can be pressed down upon the pen so firmly that the pen is removed by a pull on the holder.

SMALL BOY BADLY BURNED WHEN HE IS HIT BY LIGHTNING

Struck by lightning during the storm Saturday afternoon, Richard Evans, 8 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, who live east of Cedarville, was severely burned and shocked, but will recover.

The child was seated on the cement floor of the porch, and George Barber, a neighbor was occupying a chair beside him. A bolt of lightning struck a tree close to the porch, and entered the child's back between the shoulders, burned two streaks down his back to the hips, and passed off through the floor, leaving two holes in the cement.

Mr. Barber, and the injured boy's sister, Edith, who was standing inside the door, were unhurt, but both severely shocked. Other members of the household were also shocked.

The unconscious lad was carried into the house, and Dr. J. O. Stewart of Cedarville, who was called, said that the boy's escape from instant death was miraculous. The burned spot on his shoulders is about the size of half a dollar, and two wide burned streaks led from that spot to his hips.

Animals and Earthquakes.

One of the mysteries still unsolved is that of the sense by which the lower animals become aware of the approach of earthquakes. Birds and rats become alarmed and try to escape. Super-sensitiveness to faint shocks scarcely gives satisfactory explanation, for modern seismographs are very sensitive.

SPRINGFIELD WHITE SOX GIVE RESERVES THEIR FIRST DEFEAT

The Springfield White Sox added prestige to themselves at Reserve Park Sunday afternoon when a batting rally staged by the locals in the final frame failed of its objective and the Home City lads walked away with the game and the reputation of being the first team to defeat the Reserves this season. The score was 7-5.

Hitting Big Curt Free freely in the early innings and getting advantage of all the breaks in the game, the visitors got the drop on the locals in the early stages of the fracas and luckily held the lead until the contest was over. It was the first time that Manager Foley's crowd has been defeated in eight starts and it splits the series fifty-fifty between the Springfield outfit and the Reserves, each having won a game.

Facing a much stronger team several weeks ago, the Reserves defeated the White Sox handsily, driving Tony Miller from the box by mauling his offerings ferociously. It was a different tale in Sunday's pastime however, the little hurler having the locals eating out of his hand. The breaks in the game were against the Reserves and they never took the lead.

The White Sox scored first when Johns, who secured five hits in five trips, singled, was advanced when Randall dropped Scott's fly and scored on Barr's double. In the second Stevens, Miller and Johns each singled, Fanning fouled out, but Scott and Barr singled and Ervin doubled, four runs being chalked up in the big hitting inning.

The Reserves also got started in the second, Weaver and Bath singing. Weaver scored on Bath's hit and Bath scored when he beat the throw to the plate on Randall's tap in front of the box.

The visitors scored in the fifth when Donohue singled, and took second and third on the throw to get him, scoring on Henning's long sacrifice fly. In the sixth they repeated when Johns singled, stole second, advanced on Scott's out and was safe at home on his attempted steal, on a poor decision at the plate.

Excitement was at fever heat when the Reserves staged a ninth inning rally. Free, first up was hit by the pitcher, Leahey walked and Weller was safe on Henning's error. Free scoring. Leahey scored on Toews' long sacrifice fly to center and Weller scored on Weaver's out. Bath was hit by a pitched ball and stole second taking third on the throw over but Cline whiffed for the third out.

While the visitors were leading during the entire contest, the game was not without its excitement and the fans were brought to their feet several times when with men on the sacks, it appeared as if the tide of victory would be turned. Kuntz, who has been hurling for the Reserves, is suffering from tonsillitis and did not perform in the outfield as he was scheduled to. The score:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R H E
Reserves .0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 5 6 2
White Sox 1 4 0 0 1 1 0 0 7 13 3

Which every evening always brings, An' Pa says: "Bud, I guess we'll meet The Sand Man further down the street;

Right now he ought to be in sight, He's due about this time o' night, He should be waitin' somewhere near, I thought I'd pick him up right here." We jog along a block or two, An' then Pa says: Well, howdy-do, Climb in without a word o' fuss, We'll ride you into town with us." Dominoes for the Blind.

Dominoes for the blind are rather ingenious. Recognizing the need of something that would not easily be displaced as the fingers of the blind passed back and forth reading the numbers on the face of the dominoes, the inventor has given us a set of interlocking pieces. The mortise joint makes them hold together no matter how much they are brushed around. The number on each piece is indicated by the raised heads of brass tacks, easily read by the touch.

JUDGE HARRISON, A FORMER GREENE COUNTIAN, IS DEAD

Judge T. O. C. Harrison, former Greene Countian and a brother of Charles E. Harrison of New Burlington, Ohio, passed away at his home in West Lawn, Grand Island, Neb., at 9:30 Decoration Day morning.

Although he had been failing in health for some time, he had been able to take care of his law practice until a week before his death, when he was stricken suddenly with uraemic poisoning, which caused his death.

The Grand Island Independent said in part of Judge Harrison: "Hon. T. O. C. Harrison has filled many positions of public trust in Hall county and his services have been characterized by a noticeable devotion and ability. He was born in Clinton County, O., on May 22, 1849 and had thus passed his 70th birthday only a few days ago. He was one of eight children born to Hon. Peter Harrison and Sylvia Lovelkin. The father was born in England and had immigrated to the United States at the age of 18. Judge Harrison studied law in Ohio and came to this county in 1873 and was admitted to the Hall county bar. In 1876 he was elected to the position of deputy county treasurer and in 1877 was appointed county judge, which position he held by re-election for two succeeding terms. In 1892 he was elected on the Republican ticket to represent Hall and Hamilton counties in the Nebraska senate. In 1887 he was appointed district judge and was elected at the succeeding election, the district being composed of the counties of Hall, Howard, Greeley, Valley, Garfield, Loup, Blaine, Thomas Boone and Wheeler. Early in the 90's he was elected a member of the Nebraska supreme court and served two terms.

"Mr. Harrison was united in marriage in 1879 to Miss M. Camille Laine. He was a member of Lodge No. 33, A. F. & A. M. Mount Lebanon Commandery, No. 11, Knights Templar, and also of the Knights of Pythias and the A. O. U. He is survived by his bereaved wife, one step-daughter, Mrs. Addie Morgan, of Tacoma, Wash., one brother, Charles E. Harrison, of New Burlington, O., and two grandsons, twins, who are students in the local high school. Two brothers, the late R. L. and the late W. H. Harrison and two sisters, have preceded him in death."

Itching, Scratching, Skin Diseases That Burn Like Flames of Fire

Here Is a Sensible Treatment.

For real, downright, harassing, discomfort, very few disorders can approach so-called skin diseases, such as Eczema, Tetter, Boils, eruptions, scaly irritations and similar skin troubles, notwithstanding the lavish use of salves, lotions, washes, and other treatment applied externally to the irritated parts.

No one ever heard of a person being afflicted with any form of skin diseases whose blood was in good condition. Therefore, it is but logical to conclude that the proper method of treatment for pimples, blotches, sores, boils, rough, red and scaly skin, is to purify the blood and remove the tiny germs of pollution that break through and manifest their presence on the surface of the skin.

People in all parts of the country have written us how they were completely rid of every trace of these disorders by the use of S. S. S. the matchless, purely vegetable, blood purifier. S. S. S. goes direct to the center of the blood supply, and purifies and cleanses it of every vestige of foreign matter, giving a clear and ruddy complexion that indicates perfect health. MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime. Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork.

By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidity, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People with plenty of red blood, courage and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery, to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance, to be not only a man but as men now go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-feren every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anaemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. Sayre & Hemphill and all other druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

"LOVE ONE ANOTHER" THEME OF SERMON BY REV. GEORGE STIBITZ

"Love One Another." This was the theme of the baccalaureate address which was delivered in the chapel at Antioch College Sunday evening by the Rev. George Stibitz of the Reformed Theological Seminary, Dayton. He urged the graduates to keep this in mind throughout their lives, and to remember always that other people had rights the same as themselves.

The Union Literary Society held its anniversary meeting Saturday evening in its hall, and the address was delivered by the Rev. John P. Malick, of Cincinnati, an alumni of Antioch and member of the Union Society. Miss Florence Benson took the place of the president of the society, Rev. Ralph Lynn, who is ill, and gave an address. The pins were presented by Charles Vannorsdall, to the following: Miss Clara McCarty, Warren Vannorsdall, Herman Harner, Rev. Ralph Lynn and Miss Florence Benson.

The Star Literary Society will hold its anniversary meeting Monday night, and Judge James G. Johnson will be the speaker.

Trustees of Antioch will convene Tuesday morning, and the alumni meeting will take place Tuesday evening.

Exercises of the sixty-third commencement will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and the Rev. E. S. Weaver D. D., of Springfield, will give the address.

Sky Went Along.

A woman was leaving a home where she had been very happy, and, as she boarded the train which was to take her away, the tears came fast. Her little son, anxious to comfort her, tried the effect of a cheering discovery he had just made. "Why, mother," he exclaimed, "the sky is going right along with us." Other faint-hearted people need to make the same discovery. No matter what we leave behind, the best goes with us.

FIRST COMMUNION SERVICES HELD AT CATHOLIC CHURCH

First communion services were held at St. Brigid's church Sunday morning at the 7 o'clock Mass, and thirteen little children received the Sacrament from the hands of their pastor, Rev. Albert Burke. The little ones were all clad in white. The tiny girls wore short tulle veils that fell about their shoulders and sweet faces, and each boy wore a white flower pinned on his blouse.

Father Burke preached a beautiful sermon from the text "Suffer the little children to come unto Me." Sunday afternoon the same children were invested in the Scapular of the Blessed Virgin. The children in the class were: May Martin, Elizabeth Ammer, Mary Louise Ashbaugh, Helen Downes, Hazel Gallagher, Anna Klein, Nora Franks, Lucile Purdum, James Courter, Clifford Franks, Lawrence Hibbert, Alexander Mangan, Leo Thomas, Helen Kampman and Robert Shoup were the leaders little Miss Kampman being dressed in a pale blue frock, blue slippers and hose.

BIJOU.

Rex Beach's tremendous new drama of Alaska "The Brand," the most realistic and thrilling picture since "The Spoilers," and easily the biggest Beach production will be featured at the Bijou Tuesday.

The picture is a Goldwyn masterpiece featuring Kay Laurell, former favorite star of "Zeigfield's Polities," as the heroine, Russell Simpson as the founder of the City of Cold and Robert McKim as the treacherous fortune-seeker, who lured the girl to the flames of the Yukon. Desperate fight scenes, startling climaxes, the frozen trail of Alaska in the dead of a raging storm-night, a man branded with the white-hot barrel of his own gun—these are tense situations in the most thrilling picture of the day.

ORPHIUM.

Carlyle Blackwell plays a dual role in his latest World Picture released "Courage for Two," in which he is supported by Evelyn Greeley at the Orphium theater Tuesday.

Some wonderful double exposure photography has been done in showing Blackwell in the dual role and the plot is one of lively interest. The dual role is of unusual interest. The dual plots two romances, naturally Blackwell appearing in each. In the east are Rosina Lenley, Arda Lacroix, Henry West, Jack Drumier.

The Xenia Club will play a return game with the Lebanon club next Saturday when the Lebanon Club will help dedicate a new community house erected at Dodds near Lebanon, by a Mr. Wells, a former professional ball player, who is much interested in the village.

WHO AM I?

(American Machinest.)

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the universe.

I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the world.

I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns.

I spare no one, and find my victims among the rich and poor alike; the young and the old; the strong and the weak. Widows and orphans know me.

I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor, from the turning of the grindstone to the moving of every train.

I massacre thousands and thousands of wage earners in a year.

I lurk in unseen places and do most of my work silently.

You are warned against me, but you heed not.

I am relentless, I am everywhere—in the house, on the street, in the factory, at the railroad crossing and on the sea.

I bring sickness, degradation and death, yet few seek to avoid me.

I destroy, crush or maim; I give nothing, but take all.

I am your worst enemy.

I AM CARELESSNESS.

When: Virginia Seceded.

On April 17 in 1861 the state convention, composed of the members of the legislature of Virginia, passed the "Ordinance of secession" by a vote of 88 to 55. Virginia, 11 days prior to this, had refused to join the states of America; but the decision of the Confederate leaders to fire upon Sumter and Lincoln's call for 75,000 volunteers on April 15 turned the scale and Virginia threw in her lot with the South.

SWARM OF BEES HIT BY AUTO AND MANY ARE KILLED

A most unusual experience with a swarm of bees is that being told by C. M. Hilliard, foreman at the Hoover Allison who ran into a swarm of the insects while motoring on the Union road recently.

The bees were moving in their regular "traveling formation," revolving in the manner of a cyclone and moving forward very rapidly. The swarm contained hundreds of bees. Just as it crossed the road Mr. Hilliard's machine bore down on the mass, striking it in the middle, smashing many against the windshield.

After being unable to avoid striking the bees, Mr. Hilliard attempted to avoid further controversy with the insects by speeding his machine away from the scene of the trouble. Occupants of the car had to battle with some of the bees however, which had gotten into the tonneau, but no one in the party was stung.

The swarm was broken up by the impact and the bees scattered in all directions after the machine passed.

SABBATH SCHOOL GIVES A PAGEANT

A pageant "The Glory of the Cross," was given by the Sunday school of the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday, as the Children's Day exercises. The pageant was divided into four episodes, but the fourth, which was to have been rendered by the adult department, was not given.

The exercises took place around a large white cross which was erected near the pulpit, and the church was fragrant with masses of roses and honeysuckle.

The beginners and children of the primary department gave the first episode, and in connection 13 babies were brought forward for baptism. Roy Siefert sang "America," very beautifully.

The Junior Department sang the "Star Spangled Banner," saluted the flag and recited the pledge of allegiance to their country. They also saluted and recited the pledge to the cross. The Senior department gave the third episode and sang two songs. Miss Dora Carter represented the girls and Allen Kestle the boys. Edward Vorhees lead the singing, and the musical accompaniment was furnished by an orchestra.

The exercises took place at the hour for morning service.

Picking Pins From Throat.

The swiftness and ease with which a doctor can remove a bone, a pin or other object from the windpipe, esophagus or even lung is often astonishing. This is when he uses one of the tubes that enable him to look right down into the organ, see the foreign object illuminated by an electric lamp and insert a delicate forceps with which to seize it and draw it out. Without the use of an endoscope there is much danger of injuring the tissues by blind feeling for the offending object.

WAS ADVISED TO USE NERV-WORTH BY TWO DOCTORS

Charles F. Johnson Makes Significant Signed Statement.

Mr. Johnson says that when advising himself and wife to take Nerv-Worth the doctors spoke of it as "fine medicine." Here is the story as given to the Columbus Nerv-Worth druggist not long ago:

The Mykranitz Co.—My wife and I have used Nerv-Worth with wonderfully beneficial results. She had been troubled for years with severe nervousness. Pains in the back of her neck. Stomach and digestion in bad shape. Restless at night and very much run down.

I had serious nervous trouble. Tossed about the bed all night long and worn out by morning and it was pulling me down in strength and something had to be done to get relief as it was affecting my eye-sight. We both found it in Nerv-Worth, which put us in good shape and did it quick. It is a wonderful medicine and tonic and rid us of all our nervous troubles. We both eat and sleep well and enjoy good health. We recommend Nerv-Worth to all. It was recommended to us by two doctors.
